Watch a video of the app in action: A: This question was heavily asked on the Blizzard Answers forum and the best answer I have seen was from a Blizzard Employee. He says: Make sure you have USB Debugging enabled in your device settings, so you'll be able to see it as a device on Windows. Update the software from Appstore on the device (if it's not up-to-date, it could be blocking the device ID). Try the connection again. One of the Internet's biggest names is looking to hire a few more movers and shakers for its rapidly growing subsidiary and headquarters, Twitch. The streaming platform, which launched a website where people can upload live videos and share them across the Internet in 2014, recently hired Chris Harder to lead operations. Harder's been a key player in the space for quite some time. As CTO of Livestream, he founded a streaming technology that lets people broadcast live video across the Web. A video-streaming giant, his company Livestream last year acquired Long Live for a reported $160 million. Harder is also the founder of founding studio Vuguru and since then, it's worked with Facebook's Oculus VR and Samsung to develop TV apps. His personal projects have ranged from Pixar shorts to some ambitious Kickstarter projects. And he started the network-powered video player that let users stream live video from any web browser, which he then rebranded as Twitch. Since it launched Twitch was very successful. In the fall of 2014, The New York Times called the site a "must-have" app for 2014 and it's been a great fit for eSports players and streamers looking to reach a global audience. But now that the company is growing, it needs to add new staffers and grow its brand. The semiconductor integrated circuit (IC) industry has experienced rapid growth. In the course of IC evolution, functional density (i.e., the number of interconnected devices per chip area) has generally increased while geometry size (i.e., the smallest component (or line) that can be created using a fabrication process) has decreased. This scaling down process generally provides benefits by increasing production efficiency and lowering associated costs. Such scaling down has also increased the complexity of processing and manufacturing ICs, and, for these advances to be realized, similar developments in IC processing and manufacturing are needed.
